Effective April 25, 2022 the following list of items were approved as the minimum allowed personal property for Incarcerated Individuals to take with them to Isolation / Quarantine regardless of housing arrangement. Facilities may and should allow all personal property to be taken by Incarcerated Individuals to ISO/Quarantine Units that are designed for like-custody levels and normal incarcerated housing.

Alternative housing areas should be evaluated on a case-by-case basis for what is appropriate for personal storage in addition to the minimum allowable. This includes Restrictive Housing settings that are used for this purpose.

Important note: Personal property taken by ISO/Quarantine Incarcerated Individuals to a Restrictive Housing setting that is jointly occupied by Ad/Seg or MAX custody individuals, will also be evaluated on limits to what can be visually searched by staff during intake to ensure safety and security of the unit.
