

MONROE CORRECTIONAL COMPLEX

FACT SHEET

ABOUT THE FACILITY

The Monroe Correctional Complex (MCC) is the second largest prison in the state.

MCC is comprised of five facilities, with 105 buildings on 365 acres.

Washington State Reformatory Unit (WSRU) - 1910

- 36 capacity, 772 total capacity
- Medium/MI3 custody level
- Two large cellblocks each with 316 cells
- Provides inpatient hospital services, outpatient services and a dialysis unit used by other correctional facilities in the state
- Five Extended Family Visit mobile homes allow for visits with family/friends for the complex
- In 2021, WSRU B, C and D units were closed due to statewide consolidation efforts. They remain operable and ready for use if needed. WSRU A Unit houses a population that need specialty medical care and access to the inpatient unit, dialysis unit and local major hospitals

Twin Rivers Unit (TRU) - 1984

- 795 capacity
- Medium/MI3 custody level
- Four living units: two MI3 and two medium
- Washington State Sex Offender Treatment and Assessment Program facilitates the treatment of 200 incarcerated individuals at a time
- Provides housing for a population of high-profile individuals and individuals who have dropped out of a security threat group
- The Summit Assistance Service Dog Program: incarcerated individuals train mobility, hearing and/or therapy service dogs for people with disabilities

Minimum Security Unit (MSU) - 1997

- 252 capacity
- Minimum custody
- Two 120-bed living units and one 90-bed mental health unit. One of the units was closed due to statewide consolidation efforts
- Houses short-term (6 years or less to serve) incarcerated individuals
- Houses the mental health Crossroads Program, which allows mentally ill incarcerated individuals to transition through lower levels of custody and accept more responsibility for managing their own mental health needs
- MSU incarcerated individuals work on supervised Community Work Crews (CWC) providing general labor such as landscaping, painting and highway cleanup; in addition, they can be used to support county emergency management
