Frequently Asked Questions

The Corrections' COVID-19 Frequently Asked Questions webpage has been updated to include questions about Work Release Facilities.

- What is the difference between quarantine and medical isolation?

Quarantine status is for individuals who have been identified as a close contact to an individual who has symptoms consistent with a COVID-19 diagnosis or has tested positive for COVID-19. Two or more positive tests within a given work release facility will lead to the entire work release facility being placed on a facility-wide quarantine.

Individuals on medical isolation status are individuals who are presenting symptoms consistent with a COVID-19 diagnosis or have received a positive COVID-19 test result. Medical isolation is a highly restricted movement that is required for 14 days to mitigate the potential spread of COVID-19 throughout the population and staff within the facility

- What are the relevant policies governing these placements?

For information about placements as they pertain to quarantine and medical isolation, please review the WA State DOC COVID-19 Screening, Testing, and Infection Control Guideline \(pdf\).
